Preliminary?

NOT QUITE!

Under our system, preliminary elections, used to narrow large fields of candidates, are triggered when there are double the available seats, +1 more person. Districts have one seat, so any district seat with three or more confirmed candidates will have a preliminary. The top two in a district preliminary advance.

At-Large @

These candidates are running to represent the whole city, rather than one of the four districts.

Preliminary?

NOT QUITE!

Under our system, preliminary elections, used to narrow large fields of candidates, are triggered when there are double the available seats, +1 more person. There are two at-large seats, so a field with five or more confirmed candidates will have a preliminary. The top four in an at-large preliminary advance.
